The Rabbit, the Dark and the Biscuit Tin

By Nicola O'Byrne

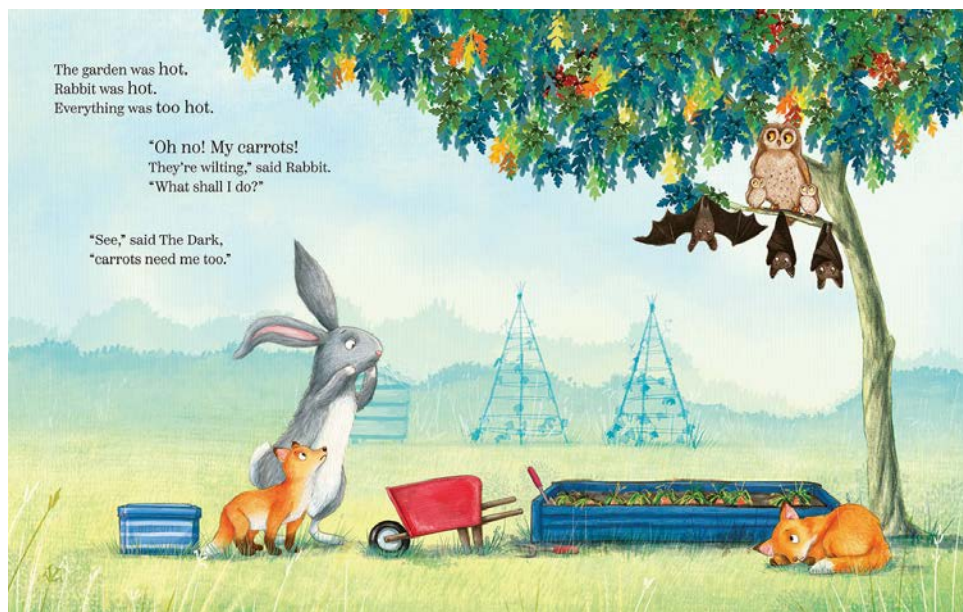

Published by nosy crow £7.99 (p/b)

Age range: Two – five years old

Description

Rabbit doesn't want to go to bed, so he decides to kidnap The Dark and trap it in a biscuit tin so he can stay up all night long. But The Dark reminds Rabbit of all the good things that he does. "What about all the nocturnal animals," he asks . . . "and surely you can't have a yummy breakfast of toast and honey and fresh orange juice unless you've been to bed?" But the BEST thing about The Dark, of course, is reading a really good bedtime story . . .

Reviews

"Ever original [...] a clever twist on the bedtime tale."

Fiona Noble, The Bookseller

"A tale of avoiding bedtime that may leave 3- to 7-year-olds with a new appreciation for the positive side of lights-out."

Meghan Cox Gurdon, The Wall Street Journal (US)

"This is a brilliant bedtime story, especially for those who might need a gentle reminder that the dark isn't anything to be scared of."
